Had a wonderful time this weekend meeting up with everyone but especially enjoyed the singing waiters and the band. Definitely the best party we've ever had!

Fantastic Service , outstanding performance

From the moment I spoke to Paula, I knew this was the company to book . The Singing waiters delivered an outstanding performance. I had VIP Clients over for a weekend at Clayton Chiswick London and wanted to add something fun to the evening . It really and truly made the night . A bit of fine dinning with background music and then to everyone's surprise the waiter fell over. A few colleagues rushed over to help unaware then the waiter jumped up and broke out in song . Everyone was up on their feet singing and dancing in seconds.

What a great company and service you provide. I highly recommend and will certainly use again .

Extraordinary event, superb organisation, top content and excellent entertainment (I had a bit too much fun on Saturday night 😊)."

Fantastic!!

Paula was amazing to work with! This was something new for us and she provided us so many amazing ideas and it was executed perfectly on the day. She was amazing at being very discreet and good at secret keeping as well as liaising with our photographer to make sure he got some amazing shots. We were so happy with the result and everyone was super surprised and it was many people's

All very efficient on the day!

We decided when planning the secret event to have the Waiters perform between the main course and the dessert. This all worked really well and the show gave a new sparkle. The meal is a quiet time with guests in groups of 8 -10, chatting amongst themselves but this brought the party together and really energised everyone! The surprise element also worked well, concern and help, offered by those nearest to the fallen waiter but great delight when they realised he was fine and it was all deliberate once they broke into song. We had a good choice of music which was performed brilliantly by the three singers, one male, two ladies. Iain was a good master of ceremonies and judge of who to approach to join in! Brilliant all round! Thank you!
